We are an innovative company with a long history, whose core process it is to manufacture turned parts, milled parts and assemblies according to technical drawings. Our CNC-machinery is up to par with the latest technology and as a process-oriented company, every single employee contributes to the quality assurance and the improvement of our services. We supply the leading industry worldwide in various sectors. Additional services are technical development

, consultation and problem solving, from the idea down to the finished product.